Pirean deliver strategies for effective Security Management aligned to the processes and goals within your business. Our services for ISO 27001 are delivered by expert in-the-field consultants and technicians who specialise in business focused solutions.

Project Definition & Benchmarking

Pirean's services for ISO 27001 are initiated by close consultation with your own experts to understand your business and the security management processes and controls that support them. Pirean's consultants will then deliver a comprehensive view of your current Information Security Management System. From here we can establish the right route for your organisation across either full certification or compliance to ensure your strategy for ISO 27001 compliments your business goals from the outset.

Gap Analysis

Pirean's Gap Analysis phase extends the benchmarking process to identify your current level of compliance and highlight how the controls and processes that manage your information divert from the standards approved within ISO 27001.

Working with the Gap Analysis, Pirean can accurately identify the level of transformation required to achieve ISO 27001 - and how best to refine your existing processes over costly investment in new technologies.

Risk Assessment & Business Impact Analysis

An important requirement in any Information Security Management Strategy is the comprehension of the risks facing your organisation and the impact on your business should they be exploited.

Pirean's consultants deliver expert Risk Assessment and Business Impact Analysis to help you understand the security threats facing your organisation and to define a route to identify, manage and control these risks whilst demonstrating effective controls to customers, partners and auditors.

Implementation

The knowledge and strategies defined by the first three stages in the ISO 27001 programme are brought together to form the foundation for your own Security Improvement Programme - a route for the implementation of best practices and technical solutions to ensure compliance to the standard.

Pirean are expert in the delivery of security focused technology, software and education services and can work with you to manage and deploy new services or operations within your organisation - either internally or through scalable outsourced solutions. We can ensure you have the right controls, the right solutions and the right documentation to validate and enforce your security strategy.

Certification

Pirean offer a range of services to help guide you through the ISO 27001 certification process. Our consultants are highly experienced in guiding businesses through the accreditation process and can work with you to identify a suitable certification body, liaise with them throughout the process, and formalise an action plan to address any issues arising from the audit.

Pirean's services for ISO 27001 are part of our strategy for IT Service Management and Security Excellence and are easily integrated with our ISO 20000 Service Management Services.
